

SPEAKER: Ms. Diane Curtis

Title: Tips for Success in Industry: Mentoring, Networking and Executing with Balance

Abstract: Now that you've landed an internship or full-time position in industry, get ready to wow! Diane Curtis will be present tips for success in industry. Mentoring, networking and executing can help you build an exceptional career. Diane will focus on the five steps of networking, mentorship basics, and techniques for executing while keeping a work/life balance that works for you.

Bio: Diane Curtis is an Academic Developer Relations Manager at Microsoft. Diane graduated from Ohio State with a B.S. in Mathematics and a B.S. in Computer Science. She started at Microsoft as an intern on the .NET Framework. She worked as a Software Design Engineer in Test on .NET Client and later became a Program Manager on Windows Mobile and Windows Vista anti-spam and anti-phishing. Diane recently joined the Academic Developer Relations team, and focuses her efforts on fostering student developer communities.